The Family Corner

From Impress Faith on Your Kids by Mark Holmen "The way you parent is going to influence who your children are and what they become. Let me say that again just to make sure you don't miss it: The way you parent is going to influence who your children are and what they become. The world is offering you options (gods) as to the way you should parent. Unfortunately, the worldly ways/gods are attached to worldly outcomes that do not lead to life after death. The worldly gods have not and cannot defeat death. Only Jesus Christ has done this. Therefore you have a choice: live and parent God's way, which will lead you and your children to eternal life together, or live and parent the world's way, which will lead to death and permanent separation."
