THE FAMILY CORNER

Acts 12:1-17: "A rescue from prison"

Here are some ways to nurture faith at home based on this week's story.* (1) Read Acts 12:5, 12. Who does your church pray for fervently? Who could you pray for as a family? (2) Act out Peter's rescue from prison. Use paper chains. (3) In this story, Herod had violent hands. Name five peaceful things you can do with your hands.

Did you know? Four squads guarded Peter. How many soldiers is that? 32-40 soldiers (Each squad had eight or ten soldiers.)

Prayer for the week: God, thank you for the love and prayers of our church community. Amen.

We recently concluded our summer sermon series titled, “Praying With Eyes Wide Open.” In looking at biblical stories from the life and ministry of Jesus, we explored how we can be more aware and attentive to God’s presence in the midst of our busy, everyday lives. So, where did you see God at work this summer? What were some signs of God’s presence that you witnessed? How did the practical ideas from the weekly “Idea Jar” help you “live-out” the sermon theme each week? Just a sampling of the numerous “God Sightings” that you gave testimony to this summer includes:

- God providing for a friend who is sick
- God prepared in advance an opportunity for me to show love
- Thankful for protection of ourselves and bikers on the road when we had a minor accident
- I got to see a monarch caterpillar change into a chrysalis
- conversation with and buying food for a homeless couple in South Philly
- watching young adults interact with children at wilderness camp
- Special notes placed all around the church
- sensing a family at peace following a tragic end to a troubled life of a loved one

Praise God for these testimonies of God’s presence and movement! May each of us continue to “pay attention,” to notice, to be aware and attentive to God’s presence all around us... “Praying With Eyes Wide Open.”

Be sure the church facility is returned to the way it was found. Please make sure all kitchen items are returned to cabinets and tables and chairs if set-up are put away. Please be sure to check all lights in the facility are turned off and all doors are locked before leaving. It can be helpful to designate a person to be responsible for this from your committee.
